

Publication : PC Magazine
Title : NGN by NGC
Date : February Issue 2004
Page : 13

Hewlett Packard (HP) Asia Pacific has inked an agreement with NGC Systems Sdn Bhd to become a partner in its HP OpenCall Partner Program. HP OpenCall is a suite of comprehensive, carrier-grade platforms for developing and deploying next-generation voice, data and converged services. HP's innovative marketing program will support key application providers who are committed to building solutions based on the HP OpenCall family of products and services. NGC Systems will be the first partner with the program within the packetised-data space to offer its Genico™ suite of solutions that provides data, voice and multimedia convergence. Dato' Goh Kian Seng, the managing director of DVM Technology Bhd, NGC Systems' parent company, said, "Our aim in developing Genico™ is to allow users in the telecommunications industry as well as service providers a never-before seen flexibility."